FACTOID

According to doctors' self-reports, 78% of MAiD recipients receive palliative care. However, in Ontario, physicians are instructed to bill MAiD-related services under "Palliative Care Support," raising concerns about whether patients are truly receiving palliative care as reported.

CONSIDER THIS

What does it say about our society if we offer death more readily than we offer companionship, care, and comfort?

CHALLENGE

Host a Life Talks Seminar for your community! Halton Alive's newest seminar uncovers the importance of palliative care and why we need to be doing more to support people suffering from chronic or terminal illnesses. Scan the QR code or visit haltonalive.ca/ltseminar for more info!

RECOMMENDED RESOURCE

Scan to watch a powerful testimony from Mike & Jen Schouten about losing their son to cancer and how palliative care was an important part of their journey.
